The Laura Bush Foundation for America's Libraries Awards Over $1 Million in Grants to School Libraries

Grants will help 206 School Libraries Buy Books

Washington, DC – Today the Laura Bush Foundation for America's Libraries announced that 206 school libraries are being awarded over $1 million in grants. The schools receive grants of up to $5,000 to create or expand their library book collections. Awards were made in 42 states, plus the District of Columbia.

Awardees include:

- One hundred eighty public schools, as well as eleven alternative, seven charter and eight private schools
- One hundred thirty-nine schools with elementary grades
- Sixty-four schools with middle schools
- Forty-six schools with high schools

“Books inform, entertain and inspire,” Mrs. Bush said. “And the books we read as children shape who we become as adults. These grants to school libraries will make sure more children have access to books--also making sure more children enjoy the lifelong benefits of reading.”

The Laura Bush Foundation for America's Libraries was founded in 2002 as a fund of the Community Foundation for the National Capital Region. Since its inception, the Laura Bush Foundation has awarded over $3 million to 634 schools in the United States, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico and the U.S. Virgin Islands.

The grant application process is administered by the Community Foundation for the National Capital Region with guidance from the Laura Bush Foundation's Advisory Committee. The grants are funded through generous donations to the endowment from individuals, corporations and foundations.

The mission of the Laura Bush Foundation for America's Libraries is to support the education of our nation's children by providing funds to update, extend and diversify the book and print collections of America's school libraries.
